Get inspired for the 4-H Coding Challenge at State Field Day

Want to create something for the Coding Challenge at State Field Day, but not sure how to get started? Looking for inspiration for your next computer science (or art!) project?

We'll be hosting a follow-along programming session over Zoom where we'll create some visual and sound art together. Participants will follow along and end up with the same start project to take in any direction they want.

Prior programming experience is helpful but definitely not required. The facilitators will create an art project from scratch while you follow along.

After folks have registered we'll set a date. We expect the session to be 60-90 minutes.

Wild turkeys feed on green leaves, seeds, berries, and insects. They are also capable of flying at more than 50 miles per hour for short distances and roost in trees at night. Wild turkeys have longer legs and necks and typically weigh less than domesticated turkeys. Commercial turkeys are not able to fly and mainly fed a diet of corn and soybeans. Federal law prohibits growers to feed growth hormones to commercial turkeys. For additional information about how to safely care for and handle tur-
